Dear Community Business Leader,

YWCA Cortland has been busy planning an exciting lineup of events for 2023, and we invite you to be a part of it. Please consider sponsoring a mission-driven event where we will feature your business as a leader and a partner. Together we can impact our community by delivering high-quality services to those who need them most.

The YWCA remains committed to providing vital services to meet our Cortland community's growing and constantly changing needs. We recognize that the world is changing and strive to remain adaptive and flexible while pushing our limits to build capacity and grow.

The opening of Grace Brown House (GBH) this past summer illustrates how YWCA Cortland saw a need in the community and responded to add new services to our portfolio. A 25-unit project owned by partner agency Christopher Community, Inc., GBH provides women and children survivors of domestic violence permanent housing, support services, and, most importantly, independence from their abusers.

There will always be more needs to meet, more programs to expand, and more families to serve. And we are grateful for the business community's past support, which sustains our ability to stretch and expand our capacity.

By investing in YWCA Cortland's initiatives with a 2023 sponsorship or partnership, you will directly impact families and other community members who need our services now more than ever. You'll also give your organization the visibility and recognition it deserves.

We look forward to creating a partnership with you. If you would like to discuss these opportunities further, don't hesitate to contact us. Thank you in advance for your continuing generosity and support.

Sincerely,
